Mitchell Browning and his crew at Finline Construction are brilliant. We have a home in Southpark that we initially contemplated tearing down. Our neighborhood has succumbed to the destruction of '60s style houses yielding to more innovative and efficient home design. Mitchell came in and together we designed a balcony overlooking our great room. This room is now truly great and used to be a mere den. What once were 8 foot ceilings, through Mitchell's vision and capable creation, currently rival any castle in Tuscany. With Jacobean stained beams hefted with Herculean strength by 3 crewmen and a ladder, the room looks ancient, welcoming and warm. Creating cozy ambience in a structure so grand is a feat in and of itself. We carried the great room into a keeping room and on through into the kitchen. The ceilings soar into the rafters balancing a turret they placed on the front of the house to add some character to our entrance.

The exterior and the interior of the home have undergone a major face lift and we attribute ample credit to the owner and crew of Finline. They were as precise as cosmetic surgeons and as caring and respectful throughout the renovation. Because we occupied the home during construction, this was an added bonus. We may continue to revise and review our home in years to come as our needs develop and change. And, to be sure, Mitchell Browning and Finline will be on our shortlist of contractors.
